

Determine the spin system and all coupling constants, and assign the signals to their protons in the molecule. Support the assignment with calculated chemical shifts.

Determine the spin system and all coupling constants, and assign the signals to their protons in the molecule. Support the assignment with calculated chemical shifts.

